

T+1 Communications and Education Working Group (CEWG)

APPROVED Minutes

Tuesday, February 14, 2023 – 11:00 am ET

1. Welcome and introductions

The CEWG welcomed Mauro Lagana, Senior Legal Counsel, at the CBA and Yianna Daklaras, Senior Advisor, Communications, NBC Wealth Management. Yianna was replacing Colleen Bronson, who had been also on the CEWG for the 2015-2017 move to T+2. Barb thanked Colleen for her contributions, particularly editing. Note: See attached list of meeting participants, agreements, and action items.

2. Draft minutes of February 14 CEWG Meeting

The draft minutes of the February 14 CEWG meeting were accepted without change. The items identified for action had been completed or were on the day's agenda, ongoing, or scheduled for the future.

3. New T+1 news/information

i. Member/association updates

Barb thanked Matt for e-introductions to the heads of AIMA and CAASA to help expand industry awareness. Both calls had been helpful and both were interested in keeping in touch as they saw the move to T+1 impacts their members.

ii. Canadian and U.S updates

• Canadian update:

- After discussions with SIFMA counterparts, and a request from the IIAC, the CCMA had drafted a letter for the IIAC to send, and sent a CCMA letter, to the SEC with new arguments as to why the Labour Day 2024 transition date was the best implementation date for T+1.
- The Buyside Task Force had met for the first time in late January and Fran Daly, engaged for purposes of advancing an understanding of buy-side issues, was speaking with a range of pension plan, other investment manager, and custodian firms to identify areas of opportunity or blockage.
- There had been an uptick in CCMA LinkedIn followers, which had led to a connection with the Europe-centred, but global International Securities Association for Institutional Trade Communication (ISITC), which also was helping press for a Labour Day T+1 implementation date.

- Operations Working Group members had revisited the earlier-agreed-upon 3:59 a.m. on T+1 as the preferred timing to reach 90% of matched trades.
 - The CCMA had arranged a meeting with the SEC, pushed to February 21, regarding a go/no go date to confirm, say, two months before the implementation date that the industry on both sides of the border are ready.
- U.S. update:
The SEC still has set no implementation date for U.S. T+1; there had been a big swell of additional support for a Labour Day transition, however, there were growing concerns that the SEC would maintain the end of Q1 date or adopt Memorial Day 2024. Of particular concern, it appeared there was a misunderstanding or rumour circulating that T+1 was 'optional' in Canada, or that Canada had 'chosen' Labour Day to go. The SEC was to have an open meeting on February 15, open to the public, and it was expected a date would be announced then. The CCMA would share relevant information emanating from that session with CCMA members, and likely a draft media release.

iii. International news

ISITC has been quite outspoken in sharing European concerns with the SEC's T+1 decision. The U.K. T+1 task force is making efforts to speed up its analysis of moving to T+1 and the issue has garnered significant profile in Europe. This is helpful in expediting attention, but is not yielding solutions at present.

iv. Events, Etc.

Barb said that Keith would be speaking at a quarterly IIROC/MFDA Financial and Operations Advisory Section (FOAS) session on February 23. An information session with the ValueExchange team was to be arranged to review the findings of the VX/DTCC/TMX survey, also supported by AFME, ISITC, and the CCMA. The T+1 event for PIAC members on April 13 had been confirmed.

ii. For review/amendment

CCMA staff provided background on the series of FAQs explaining Canada's decision to propose a later matching time (3:59 a.m. on T+1) than the U.S.'s (midnight, which DTCC backed up to 9:00 p.m. on T). As the discussion of a position for the SEC release took higher priority, members were asked to provide feedback by email.

iii. For discussion

- i. Members discussed and re-ordered the key messages that would be used with media and to form the draft release if the SEC were to confirm a March 31st, May 29th, or Labour Day 2024 T+1 implementation date.
- ii. There being no more time, members were asked to review the other draft FAQs.

4. Other issues: None raised

5. Next meeting: Tuesday, May 14, 11:00 am. ET
