

T+1 Communications and Education Working Group (CEWG)

Tuesday, January 11, 2022 Draft Minutes

1. Welcome and Introductions

CCMA staff welcomed new members representing the Canadian Securities Lending Association (CASLA) and attendees briefly introduced themselves (Note: See appended list of participants, agreements, and action items).

2. December 14 CEWG Meeting

- a. Draft minutes: The draft minutes of the December 14, 2021 CEWG meeting were accepted without change. Matters arising from the minutes were highlighted for the benefit of new members, namely: Members are asked to share links to T+1 endorsements, social media, articles, etc. that the CCMA website could link to, including regarding T+1 developments in other countries, and advice of/invitations to events at which CCMA staff could present on T+1, to bamsden@ccma-acmc.ca or info@ccma-acmc.ca. The CCMA continued to assess ways to make meeting information more easily available.
- b. Updated mandate: The CCMA explained the diagram showing the two-part makeup of CEWG membership, with some members having communications or other subject matter experience, some representing associations being the lynchpin between the CCMA and each association's members, and some both. The CCMA also said that service bureaus, infrastructure providers, custodians and consultants would be asked to disseminate material to/obtain information from their clients. Minor amendments had been received from CEWG members in December: the CEWG is mandated to manage communications to CCMA industry stakeholders (not clients of stakeholders); to monitor T+1 developments not only in the U.S. but, as appropriate, elsewhere; and to achieve consensus/action for all open CEWG issues (not all issues). The mandate was approved by the T+1 Steering Committee (T1SC) on December 16.
- c. Completeness of CEWG roster: CCMA staff welcomed the CASLA representatives and said that the CCMA was also seeking a connection with the International Swaps and Derivatives Association (ISDA). The CCMA also was seeking connections with AIMA, ACPM, the credit unions and Treasury Management Association of Canada (TMAC). Merici Young agreed to contact Antoinette Leung at Ontario's Financial Services Regulatory Agency (FSRA) about communicating with the credit union sector.

3. New T+1 news/information

CCMA staff thanked Jack Rando (IIAC) for the T+1-supportive Op Ed that appeared in late December and provided brief updates on the other items in the agenda, thanking members for providing information that could be useful in helping the Canadian industry prepare for the transition to T+1.

4. For review, amendment, and approval

Draft issue list: Members agreed with the contents of the CEWG Issues List without changes. The list would be updated each month to report from the CEWG to the T1SC at its monthly meetings. Additional topics could be added, amended or removed as the project progressed.

5. For discussion

- i. Communications plan: Members agreed, when CCMA staff asked that anyone with easy access to a communications plan template to provide it to bamsden@ccma-acmc.ca for use in preparing the CEWG communications plan.
- ii. Tools: CCMA staff discussed the various communications-type documents in Attachment 5 to the January 11 agenda – items that CEWG members for the T+2 project had prepared, reviewed or recommended, as well as a very rough timeline for T+1. With respect to the timeline, Kim Barrett pointed out the desirability of an implementation date that was not in February, one of the busiest seasons – while Canada would likely have little input on the implementation date, this is an issue to be listed and could form an FAQ. Pat Dunwoody also mentioned client name as a possible FAQ issue; discount brokers might be another one.

Regarding the other items in Attachment 5, it was likely that most if not all of this type of collateral material would be required for T+1. Work on some would be needed or could be started sooner rather than later. Barb Amsden agreed to share a table listing the different items so that members might volunteer for any that they might wish to work on.

6. Next Meeting: January 25, 2022

Agreements/Approvals
The December 14, 2021 CEWG minutes were accepted without change. The wording of the CEWG Issues List was approved without change.
